

Chapter Leadership Award

Objective

The Chapter Leadership Award is designed to recognize Delta Epsilon Chi student members for their leadership at the chapter level.

Description

Each Delta Epsilon Chi chapter may nominate up to two (2) members of their local chapter for this award. These members may or may not be officers. The nomination must be approved by a chapter advisor. This is a recognition award, NOT a competition.

Nominees must be national dues paying student members of Delta Epsilon Chi.

Criteria

Chapter advisors should use as a minimum the following criteria when nominating chapter leaders for this award.

- Participation in chapter meetings
- Leadership conference attendance and participation
- Competitive events conference attendance and participation
- Active leadership through one or more of the following (chapter officer, project coordinator, committee chairperson, student government representative, etc.)
- Participation in chapter fundraising projects
- Participation in community service activities

Recognition

At the International Career Development Conference, ribbons will be given to the “state” advisor during conference registration. The ribbons will then be given to the award recipients along with their registration materials. If a nominee for the award does not attend the international conference, it is the “state” or chapter advisor’s responsibility to forward the ribbon.
